4 &#0183; Jaeger-LeCoultre's latest Master Ultra-Thin Date demands a rethink of the GADA label Jamie Weiss. You may have heard of the acronym GADA used for watches. It stands for "Go Anywhere, Do Anything" and typically refers to stainless steel sports watches with inoffensive designs and proportions that, as the moniker suggests, suit all manner of activities.

From its calibre to its case, every Jaeger-LeCoultre luxury watch is designed, manufactured and assembled under one roof, at our Manufacture in the Vallee de Joux. Our obsession with quality is renowned as every Jaeger-LeCoultre model undergoes strict "1,000 Hour Control" testing.
